QEBRIT SMITH, OF SEW YORK, NOMINATED FOR PRESIDENT—SAMU I. M'FABLAND, OF PENNSYL-SYRACUSE, May 29, 1866.

The Abelition National Convention met at nine o'clock his morning, at Corinthian Hall, the same building which was occupied yesterday by the nigger worshippers The attendance was rather limited, not more than a hun sent and about a dozen colored peep's. In fact, the co-lored people of Syracuse do not appear to appreciate the pointed as the time for nomination of President and Vice true. The following are the circumstances: -The cap-tain of a trading vessel on the coast of Africa had been nduced by an African prices to take his son to the United States, and have him educated there. On the captain's arrival in New York he put the boy, who was out thirteen years of age, in a boarding house. Watte here a white man ingrattated himself into the favor of the seion of nobility by the bestowal of various little gifts, and by taking him to the theatres and other places of amusements. By this means he obtained the young African's confidence, and pursuaded him to take a trip to the South. As soon as the captain missed his royal charge he ran about he city of New York looking for him, and end-avering to get the Chies of Police to assist in finding him out. Mr. Matsell, it appears, showed a shameful indifference in the matter, and the captain whom he told his story, requesting assistance from him. Lewis brileved his story—took the man's face, as which the Cap air. Minawber like, gave him his promise to pay. The next he heard of the captain was through the bearding ht has keeper, who told him that he was a true Tappas man, and that he was very anxious to assist in the newers of this kitnapped African. He then in formed Mr. rappan that the captain had found the soy in Norlois, and he wasted some more money, and Mr.

Tappan gave ten or fitnen dedicts, taking the note of hand of the beard g house keeper. The last news which reached Tappan was the rescue of the young negro, as he was being taken further South, on soard a vessel starting from Baltimore. What hexame of the boy, the captain and his boarding house keeper the Convention was left in a ter ignorance of, for Sir. Tappan did not inform them.

After this nice little colored romance, which deeply affected the Convention. Mr. Prints of Onio, opposed the amputom of the address read yeste day, on this ground that it was not strong esough, that it should have recommended in ervention in the cass of Kansaa, and in opp sett not be United States government.

Commit some thught peaceble, brotherly means ought to be used.

Mr. Promissic he would not favor the nomination of any man for President who would not be for armed intervention. The battle was going on in Kansas, and were the abolitionists to stand still and see their brothere murrered without doing something to a sist them? The hase was upon them, and they ears bound to support the free State men in Kansas. He moved that the address be referred back to the committee, with instructions to so an end as to express their de rumination to sustain the cause of freedom in Kansas. He moved that the address to referred back to the committee, with instructions to so an end as to express their de rumination to any state the Davin Putmu supported the motion, and sair that the only him to be due tow was for a boein, and sair that the only him to be done tow was for a boein.

Mr. Prom submited the following in wriding, as an intermediate the free state men in Congress the assurance of our determination to protect them The next he heard of the captain was through GENERIT SMITH opp-sed Prine's amendment. This, the salo, was a convention to elect, as far as hely could, an abclirton President, and not a Kanasa meeting. He cid not believe, however, in government by moral susaion. Brute force wathe only instrument that should be used, because it was based on that alone. He expected that when the should se no more chary of the use of ceally weapons than the soot brutal man on the face of the earth. The object of fluiding to the attack on Summer and affairs in Kanasa san to induce the pe-pie to esect an abclition President, ad not to send armed men into Kanasa. The audience was here increased by the arrival of two Boomes.

The addience was here increased by the arrival of two somes. The motion of Prine was laid on the table. The motion of Prine was laid on the table. The financial business wish w brought up, when Mr. Goodbill increased the course too that there were very few of those who honored the principles of abolitionism that had the slightest dea of caying two-and-six-pence for carrying forward the movement. They were in want of material aid, and were threatened with bankruptcy. The people would not pay, and the propect was rather dismal. To-day they could not raise twenty thou sand dollars, where formerly they got one hundred thousand collars; and, to add to their difficulties, they had to reduce the number of their lecturers. Why it cas $250 slone for advertising the call of the Convention; and how did they expect to arise that if they did not contribute?

Mr. Tairan came out sir. mg on the financial question.

It was his opinion that a man who would not pay would not fight.

Mr. Gooden proposed that the "hat" be carried round.

Mr. Pring was opposed to carrying round the "hat," as a small business. He was in favor of the appointment of a financial committee.

Mr. Goodgil announced that Gerri' Sinith's speeches A committee was then app inted to collect contributions.

Mr Tarran showed the way they raised money in charches. The collector should look a long time at a man refore he took away the place, to show that he expected to get something. This plan never falled with him, and he shortly a control to be carry it out.

Framework Doublass circulated among the audience in the enceavor to sell some books, which he carried about with him.

Mr. Formmer, of Vermont, indirated that he would vote for any one be pieces.

The nomination of Geritt Smith was put to the vote and was adopted transmously—the women also standing up and voting.

The nominee then addressed the convention, and thanked them for the complicent they had pair him. He cid not dear that he should ske to be President of the United States; and if it would secure his election be would go down upon his kneed to the part him. He would do it, and be would do it for the election for lewist Tappan, or any other abolithmit. The Convention, by re-ciulion, refused to grant Gerrit Smith's request.

Frederick Dugiess was then nominated for Vice-President. His nomination was objected to on a nomination fair being from the same State with Gerrit Smith.

Fred, in reply, said that the integrated to remove a son into Ohio, and avoid that exjection. The nomination, however, was not insisted upon an after avverst names were mentioned. Samuel McParland, of Washington county, Penn, was nominated for Vice Preedent.

The addresses were adopted, and a motion to print 20,000 acptes carried.

Gro. W. Clark informed the Convention that Gerrit Smith had presented him with five copies of his speeches in Congress, and he would like to sell them to pay his expenses home.

The Convention then adjourned.

LINDA, THE YOUNG FILOT OF THE SELLS.

By Mrs. Caroline Lee Heniz, author of "Brassi Linwood," "Coursish and Marriage," "The Mob Cap," ac Complete is one large volume, bound in cloth, for 31, or in two volumes, paper cover, 75 cents.

Bead what the Philadelphia Saturday Courier says of it;—Linda is one of Mrs. Heniz's mos: popular works, and, like all her writings, it is intensely interesting. The story is beasifully and touchingly told; and the heardness one of the lowelist's creations of the novelist's pen. The interest is kept up till the very cent. It slicits a thrill of deep and exquisits pleasure, even exceeding that which accumpanied the Mob Ong, which was generally admitted to be the best story ever published. That was certainly high praise, but Linda takes precedency are since, of the famous Mob Cap, in the Courier, we formed an exalted opinion of the womanoly and literary excellence of the writer, our feelings have, in the interine, had quite sufficient leasure to cool; yet, after the Ispne of years, we have our female writers. This next production of Mrs. Lee Bright now felly confirms our previously formed opinion, and wit unhead latingly proneunce Linda, now published in book form, in the sensitive to refirm a story which, in its varied, deep and thrilling interest, has no superior. We satisfact the price of the edition of the work will be sent to any one to any part of the United States, free of postage, or restribute to application of the work will be sent to any one to any part of the United States, free of postage, as restribute to be published and for sale pt the cheap bork and publishing establishment of
